

Gov 1780: International Political Economy

Section 10
1 Apr 2021

Agenda

- The midterm is out!
- Reminder about our plagiarism policy
- Activity for today

The midterm is out!

The midterm was released this morning, Apr 1 at 9AM EST. It will stay open until Apr 4 at 9AM EST, and you will have 90 minutes upon opening the exam to complete it and return.

Feel free to ask any clarification questions now about exam logistics.

Reminder about our plagiarism policy

— — —

This exam is open-book, meaning that you can consult your notes, materials from lecture/section, the readings, and other resources during the exam. However, we will ask you define or explain concepts in your own words, rather than quoting extensively from other sources.

Reminder about our plagiarism policy

— — —

Here is a useful rule of thumb:

- For this exam, it is acceptable to use a standard one sentence explanation without citation (e.g. “According to the Stolper-Samuelson theorem, free trade benefits locally abundant factors of production and harms locally scarce factors of production.”).
- For this exam, it is NOT acceptable to directly quote several sentences, even if you correctly use quotation marks and cite the source. Instead, we ask you to put these explanations into your own words, to demonstrate your understanding of the concept.

Activity for today

— — —

International finance and development lightening rounds

- First, I will share the link to these slides with you.
- In your own words, summarize the primary argument, sub-arguments, and supporting evidence for several articles we have seen in class. (Use small font - you may need it!)
- Find the best example of analysis in the article, and type it word-for-word into the analysis box.
- You will have seven minutes per article, and then you must switch to the next article.
- At the end, we will debrief and discuss the best examples of analysis that you uncovered in each article.

Jeffrey A. Frieden, “Globalization and Exchange Rate Policy.”

— — —

Primary argument

Key subarguments

Supporting evidence

Analysis example

Important key terms

#1

Jeffrey A. Frieden, “Globalization and Exchange Rate Policy.”

— — —

Primary argument

Key subarguments

Supporting evidence

Analysis example

Important key terms

#2

Mark Copelovitch, Jeffry Frieden, and Stefanie Walter, "The Political Economy of the Euro Crisis."

— — —

Primary argument

Key subarguments

Supporting evidence

Analysis example

Important key terms

#1

Mark Copelovitch, Jeffry Frieden, and Stefanie Walter, "The Political Economy of the Euro Crisis."

— — —

Primary argument

Key subarguments

Supporting evidence

Analysis example

Important key terms

#2

Lawrence Broz, "Political System Transparency and Monetary Commitment Regimes."

— — —

Primary argument

Key subarguments

Supporting evidence

Analysis example

Important key terms

#1

Lawrence Broz, "Political System Transparency and Monetary Commitment Regimes."

— — —

Primary argument

Key subarguments

Supporting evidence

Analysis example

Important key terms

#2

Activity debrief

— — —

Phew, it's over!

- What did you struggle with or accomplish well during this exercise?
- Let's discuss the best examples of analysis that you found.